A MESSAGE FROM OUR MANAGER

Aimi

Residential Manager

I hope everyone is well and enjoying the summer, when its not raining. Its been very busy the past few months with new homes coming on to the new development and the park. As you are all aware that Lee Williams has left the company, the staff have not yet been updated on a new general manager being appointment but I will let you know as soon as I am informed by the company.

Yearly Fire extinguisher check – I am still awaiting a date to be confirmed from Stewart for him to spend the day here doing the testing.

Visitors

Please can you make sure that visitors are parking on the golf car park and walking through and not calling the buzzer along taxi drivers to gain access to the park as the buzzer is connected to the works phone and this is having an impact on Dave and myself when we are not in work and especially late at night. If it is an emergency, fire, ambulance that's fine but when its visitors, drop offs and taxis.

The Hurlston Hall Team would like to welcome Debra McNeil, Marlelen Fyles, Julie & Kev Bamber, John Vonbargen to the park.

APPROVED SUPPLIERS

As we welcome more homeowners to Hurlston Hall, and many are looking to upgrade their caravans the question around approved contractors is being raised and why is this a requirement. As caravan park owners we have a duty of care to ensure the works carried out on our property is safe and within the required guidance of the concern professional body.

Therefore, we invest time in creating a list of approved contractors who we work with that have provided us with all the necessary qualifications, certifications and insurance to ensure they are competent, certified and qualified to carry out the works safely and to the correct standard. As this involves administering from our side, we do add a fee for company expenses, this is normal across the caravan park industry and more importantly it protects the home owner as the works is facilitated through the company. To date our list of approved contractors are:
